RECORDS ARE BROKEN BY GEORGE HODGSON BUT YALE WINS OUT

AMERICANS WON RELAY BY NARROW MARGIN

INTERCOLLEGIATE RECORDS ARE LOWERED IN EVERY RACE BETWEEN MCGILL AND YALE

Time in the Relay was Within Two-fifths of a Second of the Worlds Record—Intercollegiate Records were Smashed in the Relay, 220, 100 and 50 yd Races

Last night in New Haven, in a most remarkable swimming meet Yale defeated the McGill representatives. Outside of Hodgson the McGill men were unable to do better than four third places although the Yale relay team was forced absolutely to the limit and only barely came through with a win in the phenomenal time of 1 min 44 2-5 secs. which is within 2-5 of a second of the World's record. Patterson was unable to enter the plunge owing to trouble with his neck, which he hurt in Montreal before the team left on their trip. Stavert, however, succeeded in getting third place while Draper got third place in the diving. McGill took third place in the 100 and the 50 but failed to show in the 220. Hoadley of Yale broke the American Intercollegiate record in the 50 in the fast time of 25 3-5 seconds. Hodgson did not enter this race. Hodgson was in splendid form and swam the 220 yards in the fast time of 2-29 2-5, breaking the American Intercollegiate record by over 2 seconds and coming within 1 2-5 seconds of his own best time in the event. He also won the hundred in 58 2-5. He was again breaking the record. In practice before leaving for the States he bettered this by 2 seconds. As at Pennsylvania the Americans proved far superior in the diving taking first and second in both the plunge and the fancy diving. In the former event Smith and Braden of Yale tied for first place at 66 feet and Stavert of McGill was third. The fancy diving was won by Wilton of Yale with another wearer of the Blue second and Draper third. The results were as follows: 220 Yards—1st. Hodgson, 2nd. Yale, 3rd. Yale. Time 2-29 2-5. 100 Yards—1st. Hodgson, 2nd. Roberts, 3rd. McGill. Time 58 2-5 secs. 50 Yards—1st. Hoadley, 2nd. Yale, 3rd. McGill. Time 25 3-5 secs. Relay—1st Yale, 2nd. McGill. Time 1-44 2-5. Plunge—1st. Smith and Braden, 3rd. Stavert. Diving—1st. Wilton, 2nd. Yale, 3rd. Draper. The team will now have a day's rest and an easy trip to New York, where they swim the Brookline A.C. on Wednesday evening. Outside of Patterson the team are all in good shape although the strain of the long trip is telling on them. They were given a royal welcome in New Haven and are enjoying the trip immensely.

THE MEDICAL BANQUET PROVED A BIG SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY AND WAS APPRECIATED BY ALL

Large Attendance Listened to Many Interesting Speeches and Toasts while Fellowship and Good Feeling Reigned Supreme

SIR LOMER GOVIN WAS GUEST OF THE EVENING

Examinations Under Roddick but will be in Operation in October

The Thirty-first Annual Banquet of the Medical Society was held most successfully last night at Freeman's Hotel. The entire burden of the catering arrangements were taken over by the McGill Catering Co., and the result produced speaks highly of the efforts of Mr. Shew. The dinner commenced at eight under the presidency of Mr. J. P. Bildean of the Medical Society. Fully 150 students were in attendance. Among the guests the most prominent was Sir Lomer Govin, premier of the Province of Quebec. Other notables present were, Principal Peterson, Dean Moyses, Mr. W. M. Birks, Justice Archibald and many members of the Medical Faculty, including Dean Shepherd. After toasting the King Mr. Bildean proposed the health of the guest Sir Lomer Govin. Sir Lomer, on rising, was welcomed with continued cheers. He replied to his toast with a most eloquent speech, referring to the University and its place in the Province. What pleased him most, said Sir Lomer, were the very cordial relations which existed between the two great universities in Montreal. It presents a splendid example of the rest of the Province. "Every university has both a body and a soul, and it is the soul of McGill in which I am especially interested and especially proud. That soul consists of the graduates which have gone to all parts of Canada. That soul consists of the professors who are teaching a lesson of labor and effort and that soul consists above all in the student body, who are the living force of the nation. Quebec counts on the students who are soon to graduate to help her in her course of development. Soon," said Sir Lomer, "Quebec will take her rightful place as the leading province of the Dominion." He left her at the garden wall And said in accents sadder, "I hope to see some more of you"— And then she climbed the ladder. Penn Punch Bowl.

JUST A LITTLE BIT DIFFERENT

There is an interesting point in connection with the successes achieved by the representatives of this University in athletic contests during the past two years, which may have escaped the notice of many of our readers. We refer to the fact that, in basketball, hockey and football, we have developed here at McGill a style of play in each of the three games which is distinctly different from that in vogue at the other Canadian Universities. In all the three sports this movement in advance has been most successful and is undoubtedly largely responsible for the prominence McGill has achieved in athletic circles.

In the football we have to thank Coach Shaughnessy for the change he introduced. The four man inside kick, the double split buck and many other plays all originated with him. It was none of these things however which marked the McGill style as distinctive. The fundamental secret of the McGill game lay in the principle enunciated by Shaughnessy, that it is better to keep the other teams wings running up and down the field by returning all kicks instead of running them back. How successful this proved a spectator of the games last fall can bear witness.

The same thing holds true of the hockey. Coach Roberts worked out a new defensive game which eventually brought the championship to McGill. Mr. Roberts theory was roughly this: Kee, down your opponents score and your own chance, will surely come. He therefore evolved the three man defence game which was so successful last year and, caused Varsity's downfall last Saturday afternoon.

In basketball again we find the same principle applied at McGill. The red and white representatives play a close game in contradistinction to the usual open floor game played generally in Canada. As a result of this the scoring is held down and the McGill team by protecting their own basket achieve opportunities to score on their opponents.

There was a time not very long ago when the constant excuse for McGill's non success in athletics was, "How can we hope to compete with Varsity in view of the numbers and quality of the men they have to choose from?" and there was a certain amount of truth in the statement. One thing however we overlooked and that was the all important fact that success is not so much a matter of mere numbers as of making the best use of what material there is at hand.

There is refinement in the make up of each package of

CONSERVATIVES LISTENED TO FINE SPEECHES DELIVERED BY PROMINENT POLITICIAN

J. K. Armstrong M. P. and G. H. Baker M. P. Addressed
Large Meeting on Naval Policy--McKenzie King's Words Challenged

Yesterday afternoon, the Conservative Party, of the Mock Parliament had a most successful and well attended meeting in Strathcona Hall.

Many prominent people were there including Principal Peterson, Prof. Leacock, and Mr. Nicholson, while a number of the R.V.C. ladies gave an added touch of color to the assemblage.

Premier Walsh was in the chair, and without wasting useless words he immediately called on Mr. G. H. Baker, M.P., for Bromes.

Mr. Baker assured the meeting that he had come there for the purpose of becoming acquainted with advance legislation. He then went on to say a few words for Mr. Armstrong who, he said, was an old warrior who had fought many fine fights for the Conservatives in Ontario and was now coming in to his own. The two of them had come to reply to what he termed the misrepresented statements made by McKenzie King, Mr. Baker in a few words summed up the attitude of Mr. Borden in regard to the Navy Policy, who, he said, had stood by his pre-election words. Lack of space prevents a fuller account of what Mr. Baker said, but on closing he was cheered to the echo.

Mr. J. K. Armstrong, M.P. for nearly every statement he had made.

South Lampdon, then was introduced and was given a hearty greeting.

He referred to the promise that he and Mr. Baker had made, that they would use their best efforts to try and have a Post Office established here at McGill, and the Statement was loudly endorsed.

Mr. Armstrong then proceeded to shew how false and misleading the statements of McKenzie King had been, quoting from Hansard and various reports from time to time. He said that McKenzie King should not be allowed to go about the country misrepresenting facts and lowering the standard of Politics in Canada.

Mr. Armstrong then went on to explain the position of Great Britain to-day and assure his hearers that there was an emergency. He said that Canada had been guarded well and long by Britain, and that we should be only too glad to accept an opportunity to help her.

He stated explicitly that the Borden Policy was not a permanent Policy, but an Emergency one, and that the Permanent Policy would follow in due course.

He certainly went through the ex-Minister's words and hardly ever failed to draw applause at the various points were drawn up.

The meeting was a success in every way and loyal exclamations were heard on all sides, and hearty cheers given for the speakers when Mr. Armstrong after apologizing for not having as complete a speech as he might have had, sat down, and when this question of the Naval Policy is up before the House on Tuesday night there ought to be some intense and interesting debating.

Notes and Comments

The hockey team are not letting any opportunities slip now that they have become a factor in the race for the championship. Yesterday's practice was an excellent one and with another one on Thursday they should be able to give Varsity a good reception on Friday night. The team have been a long time hitting their stride but now that they have come back to form they should repeat last season's success.

The Intercollegiate Assault at Arms takes place on the 22nd of February, and the McGill men are all fast rounding into shape. The need of a good heavyweight boxer is still badly felt but there are many other contestants for the other positions. The McGill meet takes place on the first of next month and should prove extremely interesting.

We publish today another amusing challenge from some hitherto unknown aggregation of hockey players. To read these challenges and believe the direful things they forecast would be sufficient to keep any timid spectator away from the contests when they do take place. However, it is generally a case of "coming events do not cast their shadows before."

Judging by the crowd last Saturday, Intercollegiate hockey must be popular in Toronto. There were fully 3,500 people at the game. If we succeed in drawing a crowd like that for the game on Friday night the executive of the McGill Club will scarcely be able to contain themselves for joy. The hockey too will be every whit as good as they play in the broken down professional league.

HOCKEY TEAM SHOWED FLASHES OF FORM AT THE ARENA YESTERDAY

Forwards had Speed and team Play—Laune Roberts Took a Hand

Yesterday's hockey practice at the Arena, although a crude ragged owing to the fact that several of the men were still feeling the effects of Saturday's strenuous game; and because of the absence of one or two of the regulars, was fast from beginning to end, the forwards at times showing flashes of the combination and speed which characterized their play in Toronto on Saturday. Ramsay Rankin, who, after taking to his bed for a week with an attack of appendicitis, got up and went to Toronto where he played one of the best games of his career, stopped off on his way back and consequently was not out yesterday. Allan Thompson was the only other absentee, but as he is already trained to the minute the rest should do him good. Although the Seniors were slightly stiff from their late fame-winning efforts, the seconds cut out a fast pace which they were forced to follow and when they did get going put over some of the smoothest stuff in the way of team play that has been shown so far this year in the practices. Hughes Wilson and Sargent showed up well for the regulars while Wickson on the subs, distinguished himself by his speed and stickhandling. The latter, however, seems to have an aversion for passing the puck which tends to spoil his effectiveness, but this is easily remedied.

Montgomery in goal was in good form, stopping a few seemingly impossible drives from only a few feet out while Mann at the other end with Hughes and Masson in front of him, was given a busy afternoon, but managed to turn aside some hot ones with score-labels attached. Ryley and Forman worked hard, combining well with their respective side-partners and Scott who plays the same style of game as his brother "Skinck" who held down the position of rover on the team for a couple of seasons, did some pretty skating and stickhandling. As there were only twelve of the regular squad on hand at the commencement of the hour Laurie Roberts himself took ahead, pulling off some sensational rushing while "Pep" Paisely of football fame, filled in at left wing and did great execution with his deadly shooting and persistent back-checking.

QUEENS AND VARSITY MEET THIS EVENING IN POSTPONED GAME

Schedule of Junior Series has not Yet been Drawn Up

(Special to McGill Daily). Kingston, Jan. 27.—Queen's Senior Team which will play Varsity here tomorrow night in the postponed game of the intercollegiate, will be the same in personnel as played last Saturday in Montreal. Queens intermediate team has not been picked yet, but Dufoe and Rodden, two of the spares of the first line will likely figure on it. J. Galligan is the manager. Queens II and R.M.C. do not meet until February 10th and 11th. Up to date, the schedule of the junior intercollegiate series has not been drawn up. There are four teams in the city, namely, Queens III, R.M.C. II, K.C.I. and Regiopols. No dates have been decided upon with the rink, and if this weather continues it is feared that sudden death games will have to be played between the teams.

ANOTHER TEAM WITH FANCIFUL COGNOMEN ISSUES CHALLENGE

Would have Difficulty Working their Title into a Yell

To the Editor, McGill Daily: Dear Sir:—

Of late we have noticed in your columns, amongst other interesting articles, a number of most glaring and imaginative threats of what the "Slide Rule Slips" avow they will surely carry out against the "Bunsen Burners", "First Floor Backs" and such other organizations as dare present themselves.

Let us bring to your notice, Sir, an organization composed of highly intellectual and athletic ability, namely, "The Rectilinear Parallelepipedons." This prominent organization at the solicitation of its thousand and one ardent admirers, picks up with avidity the gauntlet recently cast down by our ill-named contemporaries. To be specific, we, "The Rectilinear Parallelepipedons" would take great pleasure in meeting our dire punishment and humbling before the eyes of the populace, any one or all of the above mentioned aggregations, in that noble winter pastime—or carnage, hockey.

This kaleidoscopic panorama may take place at such time and situation as may be convenient to them, Stillettos, daggers, meat-axes and pitchforks barred.

In other words, we do hereby throw down the gauntlet to such or all of our puny antagonists as may dare pick it up.

Thanking you in advance for your space,

We are, Sir,

"The Rectilinear Parallelepipedons."

A SACRED CONCERT WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Undergraduate Orchestra to Make New Departure

Next Sunday afternoon at 3.30 p. m. in the Union Hall a Sacred Concert will be given under the auspices of the Undergraduates Orchestra.

Sacred concerts are a new departure as to appeal to the general nature at McGill and it is expected that this performance will be greatly appreciated by the Undergraduate body. It is to be hoped that this form of amusement will become popular of the University in future.

Mr. J. A. Smith, of Med. '13, its popular conductor has promised an excellent programme which though of a sacred character is of such a nature.

The leading vocal soloist will be Miss Bessie T. Carruthers, the famous Glasgow soprano who is at present soprano soloist at St. Paul's Church. The management is exceedingly fortunate in being able to obtain a soloist of such ability and popularity.

Mr. Gus. Lamontagne, McGill's favorite cellist will also assist.

No admittance fee will be charged, and everybody is invited. Bring your friends. The full programme will appear in the columns of the Daily later.

A little co-ed now and then is relished by the best of men.

—Columbia Jester.

The Canadian Intercollegiate Swimming meet takes place this year at Toronto. If appearances count for anything this should mean two more championships for McGill. There is little cause for doubt of the outcome of the Swimming, but the water polo championship might furnish a surprise.

GRAND TRUNK SHOPS TO BE VISITED BY THE RAILWAY CLUB

Fine Opportunity for Members to See these Works at Pt. St. Charles

It has been definitely settled that the members of the Railway Club will visit the Grand Trunk shops at Point St. Charles on Saturday, February 1st. While these shops are not so large as those of the Canadian Pacific Ry.

at Angus, which were visited by the Club last year they are certainly just as worthy of a visit, and no doubt, present many features different from other shops.

It has been decided to meet at Strathcona Hall at 2 p.m. sharp on Saturday afternoon from which place the men taking the trip will go by car. As it takes about twenty or twenty-five minutes to reach the shops, everybody is requested to be there as much on time as possible.

Fair Visitor—My gracious, what a room, and look at that mirror! I'd just like to see myself dressing in that.

New Bell Hop—Yes, ma'am, so would I.

—Cornell Widow.

This week's bill at the Vaudeville house is quite up to the mark, the comedians, Oliver Briscoe and Bert Fitzgibbons, are exceptionally clever—the latter being one of the best comedians on the stage today kept the house in a continual roar of laughter—his clever songs and sayings making up for his weak voice. Edwin Ford & Co. gave a clever dancing act, and introduced several catchy songs. The Willis Family did themselves credit, and delighted the audience with their musical talent. Mrs. Louis James & Co. put on a very laughable skit, entitled "Holding A Husband", which seemed to be appreciated by most of those present. The Bowan Bros. do not seem to be as clever as some of the black faced comedians that have been seen here on former occasions. The Acrobatic acts are very fair, the Four Cliftons exhibiting great muscular feats.

CLARA BUTT SCORES
BRILLIANT TRIUMPH
AT THE PRINCESS

Famous English Singers
Charm Enthusiastic Audience by Marvelous Rendering of English Folk Songs

If the public is the last court of appeal in things musical and theatrical, and we take it for granted that such is the case, then the decision of Montreal would place Mme. Butt among the very first of the leading singers of to-day. With her first appearance Mme. Butt won her way to the hearts of the audience and until the very last there seemed to be a perfect atmosphere of sympathy between singer and audience.

Moreover if there had been any doubt in the minds of local musical devotees, previous to last evening as to whether the English speaking public of this city delight in hearing the songs of their native tongue when adequately rendered, that doubt was dispelled by the enthusiasm of the audience, over the quaint old folk songs of the home lands so simply and sweetly sung last evening by Mme. Butt and Mr. Rumford.

Mme. Butt's voice is one of marvelous power and strength and yet is capable of modulation to the softest and sweetest of tones. Her choice of songs last evening did not call for an exhibition of the former qualities so much as for the latter, but the ease and volume with which her voice swelled into the fuller and higher notes seemed to reveal unsounded depths of power.

There is a peculiar tonal quality about the notes of her middle range which is both unique and fascinating. There is a fullness and resonance that is almost masculine and resembles that of a strong rich baritone. This quality, in nowise detracts from the beauty of her singing, however; indeed it tends to add a peculiar fascination to it.

The softer and sweeter qualities of her voice were revealed in "Der Nussbaum" and "Leaves and the Wind," particularly, while in "Die Allmacht" and in "The Lost Chord" the power and volume of her voice found expression.

Mr. Kennedy Rumford also came in for a large share of applause. He possesses a voice of richness and smoothness though it lacks somewhat in power. Its softer qualities showed up to advantage in the songs chosen by him last evening. In the German songs with which he opened the recital he showed keen appreciation of the atmosphere of his selections and his interpretations were most praiseworthy. His voice blended very finely with that of Mme. Butt's in the two duets of the evening in "Night Hymn at Sea," and in "Keys of Heaven" a very old and popular folk song of Devonshire origin.

Both Mme. Butt and Mr. Rumford were very generous throughout the recital with the encores which the audience so enthusiastically demanded.

The recital was attended by the Regal party and was the occasion of a brilliant gathering of Montreal Society.

SENIORS HAVE BEGUN TO HOLD REHEARSALS
FOR THE CLASS PLAY

February 12th Chosen as Date for Senior Play

The date for the production of the Senior Play has been finally settled. It has been decided to put it on on Wednesday night, February 12th.

As announced before in these columns, the Seniors in Arts and the R.V.C. are planning to act a play. All arrangements are now being made and rehearsals have already been made. Although it is too early to form a definite opinion, everything points to the event proving a signal success. Much enthusiasm is being shown by the amateur actors; the rehearsals give much promise of future excellence and considerable dramatic talent has been unearthed.

The play chosen is "The Cabinet Minister" by Sir Arthur Pinero.

PHENOMENAL SUCCESS
ACHIEVED BY PLAYERS IN LADY GREGORY'S CO.

Masterful Presentation of Much Disputed Comedy

Last evening marked the opening of the engagement here of the world-famed Irish Players in two plays one of which has been the cause of much discussion.

The first of these two is a one-act play by William Butler Yeats, called Kathleen in Honlihan. Kathleen is symbolic of Ireland, and she appears whenever Ireland is in trouble. The story deals with a young man, who the night before his wedding forsakes his bride, his home and his parents to do his share in the fight for Ireland's freedom. The scene is laid in Kilala in 1798, when Bonaparte through the efforts of Wolfe Tone was induced to bring a fleet of ships to that place and attempt to liberate the country. Owing to mismanagement the scheme failed, but it is true, nevertheless, that some of the Irish peasantry forsook their wives and sweethearts for this fruitless undertaking.

The second piece, "The Playboy of the Western World" is the one that was the cause of so much notoriety last season during the engagement of this company at the Maxine Elliott Theatre, New York. While any person with any suggestion at all of broad mindedness or the faintest trace of a sense of humor can take exception to this harmless little episode, purposeless as it may be, is beyond our humble conception. The fact that the worthless character of the boy is made an Irishman is quite irrelevant; we would ask its critics to remember that the noble character of the young girl is also assigned to an Irish girl—all the characters are Irish—in fact the scene is laid in Ireland. All we can say is this: that it is neither an ideal nor a practicable patriotism that admits of no portrayal of all the one's racial traits, both good and bad. We are thoroughly convinced that it was only bigotry and narrow mindedness that the company had to contend with in New York last year.

The work of this organization is quite comparable with that of the Horiman Co. The actors seem to have been trained along the same lines as the Horiman Co. It was only a few weeks ago that Forbes Robertson in conversation with a friend said that Lady Gregory and Miss Horiman had both done more for the uplifting of the drama in the past ten years than any other two people in the world. The exceptionally artistic finish and realistic detail that these players lend to their work is as refreshing as a cool breeze on a hot summer's day. The no-star system that characterized Miss Horiman's organization characterizes this one also. The conspicuous actors in last night's plays, however, were Miss Sarah Algood, in "Kathleen-in-Honlihan" and in "The Playboy" the most important players were Miss Eithne McGee, Christopher Mahon and Mr Arthur Sinclair.

SCIENCE UNDERGRADS
HEARD GOOD ADDRESS
BY MR. T.K. THOMPSON

Large Attendance Listen to Expert on Caisson Work

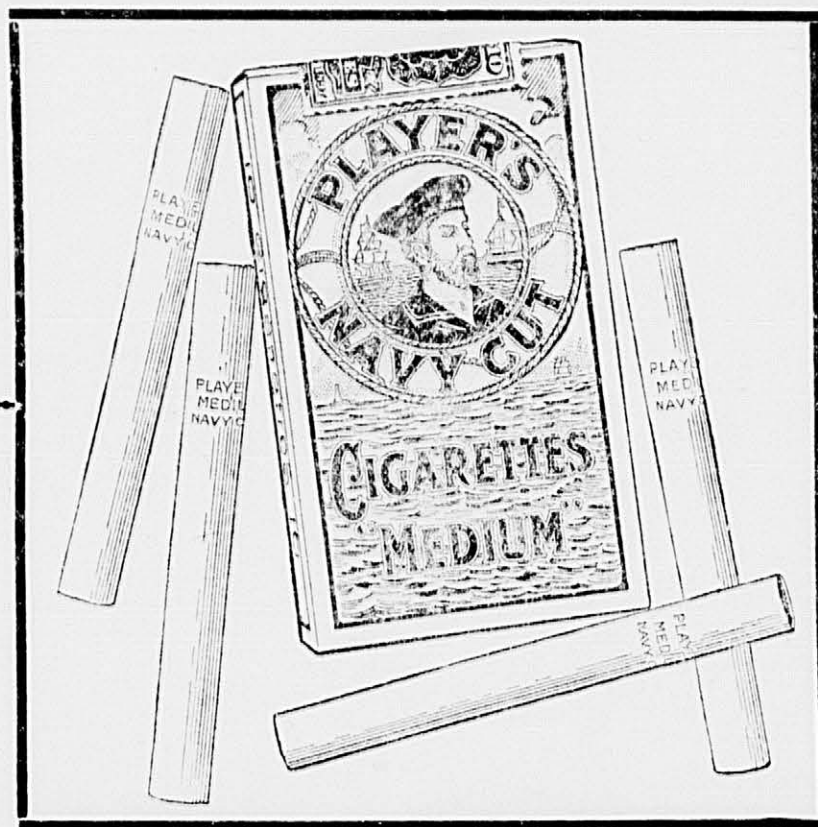

Mr. I. K. Thompson, of New York, gave a very interesting lecture last evening to the Science Undergraduate Society. The meeting was held in the Mining Building and was very well attended. The lecture was on "Foundations and Masonry" and was illustrated by numerous lantern slides. Mr. Thompson kept the attention of the audience all through by the interesting way in which he dealt with his subject and by his ready fund of anecdotes.

The lecturer confined his attention almost entirely to caisson work and spoke briefly of all the different types of caisson, even going so far back as to touch on the submarine adventures of Alexander the Great in a diving well. He spoke of all the different systems for the removal of the material from the caisson whether by means of buckets or by blowing it out through pipes. The sinking of the caisson into place occupied a large share of his attention, and was often a very difficult problem, especially where the caisson had to be sunk in a river bed.

For this work pontons were generally employed. The loading of the caisson was a point upon which engineers differed very largely and the best known methods were spoken of in turn.

The pressure inside the working chamber of a caisson should never go beyond forty-eight pounds per square inch and very rarely as much as that. Mr. Thompson spoke of the danger of change of pressure inside these chambers. These sudden changes cause great discomfort to men unaccustomed to this sort of work, and are liable to cause deafness and sometimes very serious complications in the case of men of unsound constitutions. Mr. Thompson, who has been connected with the construction of a great many of the largest buildings in New York, showed numerous illustrations of these buildings and of the work on their foundations. He also spoke of a plan of his for increasing the dock accommodation of New York, a problem which is exercising the mind of New Yorkers not a little, especially on account of the increasing size of trans-atlantic liners. A hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. Thompson and Varsity yell was raised in honour of the lecturer who is a Toronto graduate. The business of the evening was then concluded with refreshments.

Queens and Varsity clash tonight in the hockey game which was postponed twice before. A Kingston despatch cautiously says that this game will take place, weather permitting. They must be having even a milder time of it in the Limestone City than we have had here in Montreal, and it has been bad enough here.

The basketball team are also hard at work preparing for Friday's hard game with Varsity. If practice can beat the latter aggregation the McGill men will do it. Given the advantage of the home floor and baskets with which they are familiar the Red and White representatives should be able to defeat the fast Torontonians.
